THE NEWSPAPER STAFF
DEDICATES
THIS LAST ISSUE TO
THE GRADE I2's

A WORD FROM SHARON

Hi, everyone! This is the final issue of Highschool Highlights. Next year there will be a new name for the paper and it will hopefully be a better paper than this years.

Tracey and I recieved a lot of static about the paper, probably because both of us are grade II, and past editors have been in grade I2. We worked hard on the paper and did our best despite all the problems we encountered. We kept on going no matter how disappointed or disillussioned we were with the whole thing.

Our biggest problem was getting each issue out. We had hoped for ten (one a month), but we were only able to get out six, a seventh issue never even got past typing. There just wasn't enough to put in it. That wasn't our fault. You can't put a paper out; when you don't recieve any help from the school. After all, it happens to be a school paper, in case any of you didn't realize that. To make matters worse, you were given opportunities to contribute. There were opinion polls and quizzes, but you were to selfish to waste a few minutes of your time to help, and then you have the nerve to turn around and complain about how bad the paper is. It was a miracle that we got as many issues out as we did.

Tracey and I are going to have another go at the newspaper next year and we hope it turns out a lot better than it did this year. If it doesn't it won't be our fault.

This past year has been a pretty busy one. We had Spirit Week, Candid Camera, Penny Carnival, a few dances and several sport events. Its been a pretty good year and the staff would like to thank the Executive Student Council for making it that way. You did a good job and we're proud of you.

The winner of this years Tabloid meet was Mr. Grants class and second was Mr. Wirchs class. Congradulations to both teachers and their classes.

P.E.H.s is losing one of its teachers, this year. Mrs. Pye will be retiring and we'd like to wish her the best before she leaves us.

The newspaper staff would also like to wish all the grade 12's the best of luck in the future and hope that they'll be happy. Oh yes, this last issue is dedicated to the graduates, but more about that later.

The newspaper made $46.10 in profits. The money was split equally and given to the Prom committee and yearbook staff.

We'd like to give our sincere thanks to all those who contributed to the paper, and we hope they continue to give their support next year.

Tracy and I would like to thank our staff members, who gave up their time to help us.

Michelle Turnkell - Dear Gabby, Rock Stories
Janice Johnston - Grapevine, Happiness Is, etc.
Lynn Ludlow - Fashion News
Larry Bootland - covers
Tabitha - Opinion Poll
Colin White - proof reader
Miss Sheehan - support
David Kolesnik - hockey news

and we'd like to give special thanks to Debbie Ross, Pam Clark, Vicki Carey, and Diane Fraser. They spent a good deal of their time typing up the newspaper, without them the paper would have never gotten out.

I'd like to give very special thanks to Tracey who has been a great help to the paper. Despite everything that's happened this year, Tracey and I enjoyed working on the paper.

Last, the whole newspaper staff would like to wish everyone a wonderful summer and good luck in exams!

A WORD FROM TRACEY

Since this is the last issue of Highschool Highlights, I'd like to take this time to say thank-you to all who have helped in both big and small ways in getting the paper out. I am quite dissatisfied in the paper this year, though. There should have been more issues out but due to lack of support this was impossible. For those of you who complain about this, just remember we have to have something from all of you to print! Hopefully the paper will get a lot more support next year. It's up to you!

Well, we'll be rid of all those grade 12's soon, Yaaa! No, really you'll all be missed and we hope your future is a happy one.

Sadly, we say good-bye to a very dear, kind person, Mrs. Pyc. Besides being a French teacher and French Club co-ordinator she has also been a friend to many of us. We will miss her very much and hope she comes to see us often.

Over-all the 1976-77 year has been a good one. We had a great student council headed by Cindy Johnston and Colin White. All worked very hard on making the year successful. We had a fair amount of dances and other activities for everyone to enjoy.

Good-luck to all those who'll be writing exams and Happy Holidays to everyone!!

Dear Newspaper staff,

The Graduating class of 1977 is extremely appreciative of your donation made to us this year. The money was needed to assist us in paying for the Prom. Thank you.

Paper People

Here's something for the paper. A good idea might be to dedicate this late paper to them. Print the names of the graduates in an appropriate place, get Larry to do a cover and print the poem below. It would give the grads something to tear out and keep, if they are so inclined.

I hope this helps and don't forget to thank the people who have contributed bits and pieces all year, without them you wouldn't be anywhere.

Elsie

Dear Elsie.

We would like to thank you for your concern in the matters of the newspaper staff. As you can see, we have already thanked all those involved and we had also planned at the beginning of the year to dedicate the last issue to the grads. We'll use the name idea but a different poem, but, we'll also use the poem you took out of a magazine. Thank you again for your help.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

June is a wonderful time of year - - a time for looking back at the fun we've had together in Spirit Week, at the Penny Carnival, at the many roaring dances, on field trips, and at the Talloid Track Meet; a time of anticipation as we look forward to summer relaxation and travelling, and next September in a higher grade. June is a month of nostalgia, too, as we face having to say "good-bye" to friends who unhappily are moving out of Shilo, or, as graduates, we leave the security of the classroom and take on the challenges of the adult world.

I personally am very grateful for having been associated with such an energetic faculty and student body. Cindy Johnston and her Executive provided good leadership and initiated activities that benefited the whole school. Each member of the Student Council has tried hard and worked long hours planning the many successful activities we have enjoyed. The volleyball, badminton, basketball, and ping-pong teams have been a credit to our school. The townspeople before whom these teams played will remember how well our students conducted themselves long after they have forgotten who won or lost the game. Our Cheerleaders added sparkle, spirit, and colour to the games they attended. The French Club and the 10B Canteen provided their services at dances and at Breaks so we wouldn't die of thirst or starvation. Of course our teams and clubs wouldn't have been so successful without the patient, quiet support of your teacher-coaches and supervisors. All this has been captured by our school photographers, newspaper and yearbook staffs. HIGH SCHOOL HIGH LIGHTS has already reported on the year's activities at the same time as it accurately reported the timely gossip and commented on key issues. The Yearbook Staff has yet to publish its chronicle. Inside information assures us we won't be disappointed.

Thank you students and teachers for all the contributions you have made toward making all the activities at Princess Elizabeth High School so successful in 1976-77. Academically and socially this year went by without a snag because each one of you participated in your own way to the extent you were capable. You were just GREAT!

M. T. Sheehan

FROM THE VICE PRINCIPAL

The life "the jam" in the school this year was student involvement. The more you were involved, the more interesting the school life. From sports to spelling individual and team participation are what count. You may forget some subject matter but you will never forget your special associations with your teachers and fellow students.

I do not speak of the time you "goofed off" to the Coffee Shop or the times you avoided the assignments. I speak of the times you scored 20 points in basketball, scored 80% in English, published the yearbook, entered Reach for the Top, or ran for school office. These achievements and associations will last and you will grow from them. There is something for everyone.

To the graduates good health, good luck, and remember, participate in life. To the others get involved in your school. It's up to us.

A. Clark

FROM THE PRESIDENT

This is the last paper going out this year. I'd like to take this time to say that it has been a good year, and for some of us our last. The newspaper has done a good job at getting out as many issues as they could. We never came across any real problems in the past year, but if there were problems, there was always a lot of people around to help. The yearbooks are going to be the greatest and if you didn't buy one you'll sure be missing out. For the people coming back to school next year, get involved. It passes the time more quickly and gives you something to do besides homework. For the Grads, I wish all the luck in the future.

YOUR ON YOUR OWN NOW!

This little poem is for all you grad's

Your on your own now.

No mother, father near by,

for most are leaving home.

For collage, careers, unversity and marriage,

you're all alone.

Your young men and women seeking love, happiness and independence,

Hopefully most are mature,
for you're uncieng your mothers apron strings

You're on your own^o now.
I wish you all the best of luck,
So long, your on your own now.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE GRADE 12'S

I, Jackie Kremsater, of partially sound mind, leave my perm to Mike Kelley, my platform shoes to Sue Calnan, and my best wishes to the Staff.

To the up and coming jocks I leave my ragged Converse, raunchy gym socks, all three pairs. And last but not least my wrinkled No. 14. Before I forget I also leave my X-tra small jock strap.

Mike Baker

I, Jessie Bears, leave my screams and Harlequin Romances to better the education of Princess Elizabeth High School.

I, Cindy Johnston, leave my ID to Heather Eshpeter. She can't do whatever she wants with it.

I leave my unwashed uniform to the one who can stay in it for five minutes, my beat up pair of gazelle and a good piece of advice to next year's coach. "Do not have a basketball team," who has Matt Harper on it. My uniform also goes to the person who takes twice as many shots as anyone else on the basketball team and misses twice as many shots as everyone else.

James MacKenzie

Tim R. being of sound mind(?) and body(?) I bequeath onto any connoisseur of fine lequeurs my collection of empty Baby Duck and Gimli Goose Bottles, as well as empty Five Star, Smirnokoff and Labatts Blue.

I, Heather Eshpeter, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath my perfect attendance record to anyone who can maintain it proudly and properly, and also I leave my cubicle in the Girls can to Beth Thompson in hopes that when she redecorates it, she installs a larger bathtub.

I, Gladys Cockerham, being of sound mind, and body do hereby bequeath my sweet disposition and good temper to Vivi Cockerham in hope she can carry on my natural abilities.

As Colin White (Pone) did not write a last testament of his own, we will dedicate him one from the school.

Colin White, of sound mind and body we figure would hereby like to leave his great school spirit and dedication to PEHS to all the people of PEHS in hope that they will follow in his foot steps. Plus he would like to leave his prized cowboy hat, his latest Beatle records, and his Ganner t-shirt to David Kolesnik.

To the up and coming students I leave an old hankie for the Grade 10 girls at the dances. I also leave my number 10 uniform for any person who can miss as many baskets as I can and also whoever thinks they are man enough. I also leave a bottle of Baby Duck wine for next years volleyball team. Terry Walker

I, Bucky, of sound mind and flabby body leave my cadet corps to whoever will have it. My security blanket goes to Miss Sheehan and I want Mr. Clark to have my toupee. I leave a fond "SHUT-UP" to Debbie Ross. And if you can find it you can have the right front hubcap off my old Chrysler . . . Cheri.

Bucky Calnan

The Penalty of Love

If love should count you worthy, and should deign
Oneday to seek your door and be your guest,
Pause! ere you draw the bolt and bid him rest,
If in your old content you would remain.
For not alone he enters: in his train
Are angels of the mists, the lonely guest,
Dreams of the unfulfilled, and unpossessed,
And sorrow and life's immemorial pain.
He wakes desires you may never forget,
He shows you stars you never saw before,
He makes you share with him, forevermore,
The burden of the world's divine regret.
How wise were you to open not! - and yet,
How poor if you should turn him from the door.

Hey Boy!

Here I sit
Trying to write
After being up all night
It seems right.

I guess I missed you, I think
Right after you had to go
It began to snow
And to blow.

I heard you were back in town today,
And as I wait
I realize it has to be fate
We both know you'll be late.

But arrive you will,
You'll say "I missed you."
I'll say "I missed you too,"
And we'll both know it isn't true.

You'll look blue,
I'll think you're a fool
And wonder what you learn in school.
But you're MY fool.

Sitting in the grass
Studying for my next class
Its a pain in the ?
Trying to pass!

Went to her cupboard
To get her poor daughter a dress
When she got there
The cupboard was bare
And so is her daughter I guess!

Facing Graduation

Faces of old and faces of new,
People we know and people we knew.
Growing together then drifting apart,
Always an ending and now a new start.
At graduation we all grow nearer
And all our friends seem so much nearer.
And as we say final good-bye,
One last embrace and one more cry,
A "keep in touch" and a "promise I will"
A "remember when" but, better still,
A place in my heart, you'll always stay,
This is what's said as we go our own way.

Vice-President's Message

On behalf of myself and the rest of the Student Council, I hope you had a very enjoyable year. I realize there were hassles, at times, over the dances (whether or not we should have had as many D.J.'s) but lack of funds was a problem. Many thanks to each and every student for your support throughout the year. I'd like to wish next year's Student Council good luck.

Maybe I'm leaving but my heart will always be here, at Princess Elizabeth. It's been a pleasure and an honour to have been your vice-president.

Yours truly,

Colin White (Pone)

A LOVESTORY

On the Stairway To Heaven I met a Dreamer,
Knocking On Heaven's Door. Her name was Rheannon.
I was Blinded By The Light. I said "You're A Rich Girl and I'm Crazy on You because you Colour My World and fill my Lonely Days."

She had a Heart Of Gold, but it would be the Crime Of The Century for us to go on, so I said,
"Let It Be", and she said, "You're Bloody Well Right."

DEAR GABBY

I hope I have helped at least one person this year. I really enjoyed doing this column, though at times it was in sad need of support. Thanks to everyone who gave support, and have a great summer!

Gabby, Michelle Turnbull

Dear Gabby:

I have a serious problem, so please give me a serious answer. My boyfriend and I have been going together for a year and 10 months. All of a sudden, out of the blue, he starts lying to me, breaking promises, and getting drunk all the time. Every time we talk it over, he promises never to lie, break promises, or drink anymore. But it always happens again. Can you give me some advice besides "Give him the dumps"? Thanks!

Sign me,
Shifted in Shilo

Dear Shifted in Shilo:

This is not only your problem; it sounds to me as if your boyfriend has the biggest problem. He isn't respecting your feelings these days, and I think you should have everything out in the open with him. Forget the promises; instead, tell him you have the right to know why he is hurting you so much. First find out if he is doing it intentionally. If so, find out his true feelings for you and try to salvage your relationship. Remember; it takes two to make a couple, and your boyfriend should be aware of this fact

Dear Gabby:

I have this friend who is sixteen and terribly shy. She is so shy, that I have write this for her. Her question is "How do you overcome Shyness?"

For Shy-Sue

Dear For Shy-Sue:

Your friends problem sounds serious. It is good that she is seeking help to her problem, but she'll have to take the first steps to overcome it. Why don't you help her by building up her self-confidence? Shyness, stems from a feeling of insecurity. Help your friend understand what exactly she is shy of, and have her concentrate on changing her way of thinking. Get her out, associating with people.

Dear Gabby:

Do you print my letters because I'm a regular writer, or what? This time: is it fair to see one guy every night but spend the day with a whole crew of others, even if none of them has a real claim on you?

Elsie

Dear Elsie:

Fair to whom? It depends on the situation. By "spending the day with a whole crew of others" I assume you mean in school. Well what's wrong with that? They add a little change to your life, since seeing the same guy everynight can soon become monotonous. As long as the guy you are seeing everynight understand he's the only one who counts with you, then you are not being unfair to him. But if you feel guilty about how you spend your day, then you're being unfair to both of you.

Dear Gabby:

Everytime I hold a boy's hand, my palms get all sweaty. This embarasses me very much. Can you help me get over it?

Per-Spiration

Dear P.S.:

Rub some alcohol or cologne on your hands, and try to relax when you're holding a boy's hand.

SOUNDS OF RAINTREE

Princess Elizabeth High's Prom began with the sounds of Raintree and the theme "Changes" by David Bowie.

The band Raintree is not new to Shilo. You've heard them play at the Junior Ranks and the last Carnival dance. If you have heard them play, you know they are a good band but that's about the extent of it.

Raintree is a five member band from Winnipeg. They got started about six months ago and have been playing together for about four (hard to believe isn't it!) The band consists of Louise Mousseau Bourier, lead singer, and she's been with the group for 6 months. Doug Wuel, the only original member left, is the drummer. Glen Stacey, the newest member, plays lead guitar and writes material for the group. Craig Totteringham has also been with the group six months and he plays the piano, keyboards and lead guitar with Glen. The final member of the group is Byron O'donnell. He, too, has been with the group six months. Byron plays base, sings and also writes material.

The band spends quite a bit of time on the road travelling all over Manitoba and parts of Ontario and Saskatchewan. They work about six nights a week, and about 45 weeks a year. They perform in bars, discos, school dances and various other functions. Their time off is used for rehearsals or pursuing their own interests.

Raintree's music consists mostly of disco, with bits of rock and soft pop added. Some of the members enjoy other music but the money is in disco. Byron enjoys bluegrass music and enjoys getting together with his friends to play it. Craig enjoys classical piano and has been studying this for ten years.

The life span of most bands is only three to four months, but Raintree has out lived that time and hopes to continue doing so. They hope to record some day and of course earn more money.

Raintree enjoyed performing at the Prom because of the warm, appreciative audience. They are a popular band in Shilo and probably will be back again. I know the grads are grateful to Raintree for making Prom '77 such a success.

A Look at Fashion

Hi! Gee, it sure has been awhile since my last column. Sorry for the delays but there has been a few mix-ups in the paper, as you probably know.

I think the best topic to talk about this time is spring. Since a new season is here, obviously new styles come with it. This spring, like any other I suppose, white, and bright colours are in. White can be seen in denim pants, (for guys and girls), in gouchos, tops, T-shirts, hats, and many other articles of clothing. White, along with most other colours, is a popular favorite in sailor-type T-shirts and matching socks. Some of the new spring styles are knickers, which are favorites in Peps as well as well as in Greenwood. Parachute pants are also coming in more and more everyday. For tops, the speciality this spring seems to be draw-strings of many different materials, shapes, sizes and colours. Since they come in so many different colours and materials, they can be worn with dress pants, suits, gouchos, or just plain jeans.

For guys as well, whites in pants and shirts are also popular.

Even with all the new styles this spring, one may notice that they're not so new. In fact, the clothes our parents wore are more in style today than anything.

Other current fashions around Shilo are, for girls, 2 or more holes in each ear, and for guys, one hole in either the left or right ear, depending on the person. Also, for girls, face decorations are popular.

For hair styles they're aren't really any noticeable changes, except for short styles coming in as it is spring.

Well, to wrap up my column for this paper, I will tell you the Best Fashioned guy, girl, and teacher for this month.

Best Fashioned Guy- Larry Bootland. I chose Larry this month as I feel he takes pride in what he wears, always making sure he is dressed for the occasion.

Best Fashioned Girl- Laurie Graham. I chose Laurie as I feel Laurie is usually the first to start a new trend, and she keeps up-to-date with fashions all over the place.

Best Fashioned teacher- Mr. Grant. I chose Mr. Grant as I feel he matches his plaids very well with his shirts, ties, etc.

That finishes another column, hoped you liked it, and I hope you continue to read my column. Remember I am still looking for support, so any suggestions you may have just drop them at the office please. Thanks, bye for now.
